

GOVERNOR'S VETO IS NOW ALL POWERFUL

Legislature Has Only Nine More Days To Perform—Bills To Come Up Soon

(By Associated Press)
Frankfort, Ky., Mar. 6.—With nine more days of the 60-day biennial session of the Kentucky General Assembly remaining and the governor, a republican, having the advantage of the democratic majority in the matter of vetoing bills, the work of the legislators this week was expected to be more harmonious than during the past week. The week just ended was one of the most strenuous in years in legislative halls of Kentucky due to the fact that the democrats were endeavoring to pass all party bills in time to prevent the governor vetoing them without returning them to the assembly for action.

Despite a week of filibustering by republicans in a fruitless effort to prevent the bill and illiterate voters bill, the Simmons-Strange highway organization bill and the Smith-Minor general registration bill getting to the governor before the last ten days of the session, both houses made considerable progress during the week. The House passed more bills than it has during any week of the session, disposing of 18 bills in one day of the week. The Senate spent most of its time on larger bills and as a consequence the record for the entire week is lower than that made by the House on one day.

The Senate concurred in the amendment to the bill to create two new normal schools, one in the western and the other in the eastern part of the state. The amendment provides that the commission to select the sites shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House and president of the Senate. The bill has been sent to Governor Morrow and the personnel of the commission likely will be made known as soon as the bill is signed. This measure was one suggested by the educational survey commission.

The House probably will take up the two budget bills during the week and conclude the work started before the so-called political measure side track the appropriation measures. Less than half of the first budget bill was completed in committee of the whole last week and the rest of the measure and the second budget bill probably will be disposed of before the end of the week.

Among the important bills passed by the Senate was the Bright bill to create a State Board of Education composed of eight laymen and the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The measure was advocated by survey commission and Supt. George Colvin addressed the Senate on merits of the bill. Members of the educational institutions are now eligible to membership on the board. The two new members will be appointed each year to fill regularly recurring vacancies and a regular educational policy will be outlined each year.

The last week witnessed the vetoing of three measures by Gov. Morrow and the passing of one of these bills over his veto. The non-embellish bill, introduced by Senator W. A. Perry, passed after democrats rushed all over the capitol building in search of Senator W. G. Dycus, who suddenly became ill. Senator Dycus was located and half carried to the Senate chamber where he cast the deciding vote while democrats explained their votes in an effort to kill time while the missing member was being located. The non-embellish bill is expected to go to the House this week.

Supreme Court Dismisses Texas Railroad Suit

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Mar. 6.—The Supreme Court today dismissed the case brought by the state of Texas challenging the constitutionality of control of the Interstate Commerce Commission over state rates and other features of the transportation act of 1920, including legality of the Railroad Labor Board. The court said the suit should be brought in a federal court making the Commission and the United States government parties to the action.

Stiles Is Accused of Shooting Mrs. Crume

Louisville, Ky., Mar. 6.—"Ogden W. Stiles shot my daughter and then shot himself," said Louis Seeger, father of Mrs. Curran Crume, wife of Samuel C. Crume of Bardonia, who accompanied his daughter to Louisville when she was brought here for treatment.

"Stiles came to the Crume home Friday evening, two hours after my son-in-law had gone to work at the distillery, my daughter informed me," continued Mr. Seeger. "Stiles asked to see Mr. Crume and when told he was away, entered the house. I believe that Stiles' mission was not to see Mrs. Crume when he visited the house."

"I do not know what occurred, but I do not believe that they were accidentally shot in a scuffle over possession of the gun. I believe that Stiles shot my daughter as she was fleeing from him, and then turned the weapon upon himself."

"Stiles is a man of enormous stature. I do not know what was his motive, unless he was drunk or crazy. My daughter told me that Stiles shot her and then himself. She said she did not shoot him and I do not believe that she shot Stiles."

TWO CORRECT ANSWERS SENT IN TO "MUNIFICENT GIFT" PUZZLE

Two correct answers were sent in to the Daily Register's puzzle story of "The Munificent Gift," printed a few days ago. They were sent in on the same day by Miss Bettie Munday, of West Main street, and Mrs. Collins Yates, 341 Third street. In view of the fact that both answers were correct and the only ones that were, the committee which examined all replies decided to divide the prize of $10 equally between the two, so that each will receive $5 if she will call at the Daily Register office.

The answer is the word, "Nevertheless."

There were a number of excellent suggestions made by the other guessers, some splendid. The Daily Register will endeavor to publish all the answers tomorrow.

The original lines in the puzzle read as follows:

A single I am, a twin I am NEVER;
A triplet I am, though my parts you can sever.
Search well for me here, but bear this in mind.
The more you discover the LESS you will find.

The answer—NEVERTHELESS.

An apt illustration of the good prices that the Burley Association is obtaining for its pool members was shown in the delivery of the crop grown by J. W. Derringer on the farm of M. C. Covington on the Lancaster pike, last week. They sent in 8,260 pounds of weed to the pool warehouse, and the advance on it was $17.23, so that one may estimate what a splendid price the complete payment will be. This was a splendid lot of tobacco and in fine shape. Twenty baskets out of 28 are said to have graded C-1.

A codicil dated at Richmond May 6, 1916, notes the advancement of $1,000 to each of his grandchildren, which is to be deducted from their shares as set out in the original will. J. Embury Allen and H. E. Ross were witnesses to the will.

The last testament of Silas Baxter bequeathed all his property of every kind to his wife Fanny Baxter in fee simple. The will designated her as executrix without bond and specifies that there shall be no inventory of the estate. The document is dated Sept. 5, 1910, and is witnessed by R. E. Turley and S. W. Wallace.

LAMBS AND WOOL MAY BE POOLEE

Sheep raisers of Fayette county identified with the Farmer, Union, and other farmers' union of that organization who desire to take advantage of the plan will sell their 1922 crop of lamb and this season's wool clip of the co-operative marketing plan which was tried out last year with the wool and proved so successful if recommendations made by County Agent W. R. Gabbert, J. D. Clark, member of the executive committee, James F. Beatty and other Farmers' Union leaders at the meeting of the Fayette county union Saturday afternoon are carried out, say the Lexington Leader.

J. D. Clark expressed the opinion that Fayette might join with the half dozen neighboring counties in disposing of its wool, and make one big pool for all Central Kentucky, thus insuring the buyers who come from a distance a larger market and the growers a better price. It was pointed out by County Agent Gabbert, who read an article from a leading publication on the future prospect of the wool market, there was on hand in the United States on January 1, last, only 350,000,000 pounds of wool; that the production has shown a steady decrease for the last few years and that with the tariff on foreign wool the demand this year would be exceptionally strong and the price better than for years.

DEMOCRATS PROVE "FRIENDS INDEED"

Ex-Officials Back On Jobs To Help Out Republican Successors In Time of Need

"Brother" Turley, county clerk and deputy Cecil Hendren were down with flu Monday morning, when county court day rolled around. As this is one of the busiest times in the year for the county clerk, ex-County Clerk J. W. Maupin, and his deputy, C. B. Terrill, were called upon and generously responded.

There has been much favorable comment upon the willingness shown by democratic ex-office holders to accommodate their republican successors in the two principal county offices, which the republicans captured in the last county election. Mr. Maupin and Mr. Terrill have been untiring in their efforts to get the new county clerk's force started off right; while the work of ex-Circuit Clerk James W. Wagers in assisting his successful republican opponent, Clerk Luther Todd, during the term of the Madison circuit court just closed, was nothing short of remarkable. The work of a circuit clerk is very technical and important, and Mr. Wagers' generous assistance and willingness to show Mr. Todd what had to be done, and do a lot of it himself, day in and day out, was remarked by everyone.

Politics counts a lot at election time, of course, but a lot of democratic ex-office holders have proven themselves real men and gentlemen—with hearts and feelings above petty partisanship.

STILL DISCOVERED NEAR PILOT KNOB

The Berea Citizen tells of a raid on "shiners" staged by officers of that end in the county: Deputy Sheriffs Robinson and Davis called Chief of Police L. C. Powell and R. J. Abney, policeman, Monday afternoon to assist in getting some "shiners" located in the vicinity of Pilot Knob. The officers made a rush for the still and found that a run had just been completed and two men were getting away. The officers chased one man some distance, firing several shots, but the "shiner" escaped. The officers say they know the man well, and he will be arrested. The officers destroyed 8 barrels of mash, 1 large kettle, a lot of fruit jars, malt corn, about 3 gallons of whisky, and a lot of other things, but did not get the worm, as they had hidden it before leaving the still.

TO ENLARGE HOUN' DOG RINGS AT FAIR

Harrodsburg, Ky., Mar. 6.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Mercer County Fair the date for the exhibit was set for the last week in July, 25-28. E. Buford VanArsdall, president; Clell Coleman, secretary, and L. M. VanArsdall, treasurer, were re-elected. Efforts will be made to enlarge some of the specialties that have made the Mercer fair famous—the bound dog rings, the Duroc hog futurity, Poland China futurity and horse show rings.

This fair is unique in that it is a purely community event. The citizens own the grounds and all officials serve without pay and every cent above expenses is put back into the fair to make it bigger and better the next year. The first day is an annual home-coming, with handsome prizes offered by the Mercer Chamber of Commerce.

Los Angeles "plays up" women highwaymen. Old stuff. The reporter who wrote that item probably isn't married.

We hope some of our critical readers will notice the article in the Cincinnati Enquirer Sunday about the funeral of former Mayor John Galvin. The proofreader probably was looking out the window when it "got by." And the Enquirer is the biggest paper in this part of the country, too.

Many believe the days of miracles, prophets and martyrs are past. But those who understand of the life and work of Dr. A. L. Shelton, Christian missionary to China and Tibet, feel that truly he gave his life for his Master and his death at the hands of Chinese bandits a few days ago was that of a real Christian martyr, even in this good year of our Lord, 1922.

Governor Morrow now proposes a bi-partisan board to have charge of the State Road Department, to be composed of three democrats and three republicans, named by the governor with the advice and consent of the Senate—which is democratic. This sounds reasonable and should be accepted if the legislature is determined to abolish the present road commission. Just what the objections of the democrats in the legislature to the present system are we cannot understand, nor can we see where partisanship has crept into its work. State Road Engineer Joe S. Boggs, a thorough democrat of Madison, and likewise a splendid civil engineer and experienced road man, was appointed Road Engineer by Governor Black, democrat, and was re-elected by the Road Commission, about which so much noise is being made by most of the democrats of the legislature. Those who know Boggs are satisfied with his work and are confident that he is capable of handling the big road bond issue if voted, or any other funds in his hands, as efficiently and as honestly as any man who might be named. Why all this hubbalo about the Road Department, anyway?

Carbon black is big industry now

(By Associated Press)

Frankfort, Ky., March 1—Kentucky as a producer of carbon black, the material used in the manufacture of printing ink, paints, rubber, carbon papers and other materials, is treated by Dr. W. R. Jilison, State Geologist, in his book on "Conservation of Natural Gas in Kentucky." There are two plants producing carbon black in this state, both in Floyd county.

There is a popular confusion among laymen in the use of the terms lamp black and carbon black, according to Dr. Jilison. The former is a product of oil and the latter is a natural gas by-product. The former commodity is a soot formed when the oil or liquid carbonaceous substance is burned in an insufficient quantity of oxygen or air. Carbon black taken separately refers to the product resulting from the incomplete combustion of gas and is deposited by actual contact of the flame upon polished metallic plates.

"Carbon black as an industry was born in the year 1872 when two gentlemen, Messrs. Halworth and Lamb, of Massachusetts, erected at New Cumberland, West Virginia, the first factory in the product which was successfully made on a commercial scale. For a short time the manufacturers of carbon black, though employing crude methods involving slabs of soap-stone as depositing surfaces for the carbon black, had things their own way and sold their product to the trade at a maximum of $2.50 a pound.

"Up until the recent discovery of the large natural gas fields near Monroe and Shreveport, in Louisiana, about 75 per cent of the world's supply of carbon black was produced in West Virginia, which has been producing and selling natural gas for about 3 cents and 4 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. Recent advances in the price of West Virginia natural gas to 7 cents and 8 cents per 1,000 cubic feet forced many of the carbon black manufacturers of this state to move to other sections where gas could be secured at a lower figure. Statistics covering the recent production of carbon black in the United States show that West Virginia produces more than half the entire amount."

The oldest of the two companies in Kentucky producing carbon black began operations in 1918, and at this time it is producing approximately 4,500 pounds a day. About 50 per cent is shipped to Akron, Ohio, where it is used in the manufacture of rubber tires. This company also exports considerable carbon black to Germany, England, France, China and Japan.

The other concern began operations in November 1920, just below the mouth of Goose Creek, on Right Beaver Creek, Floyd county. The average consumption of this company at this time is about one and one-half million cubic feet of gas a day, from which about 3,500 pounds of carbon black are produced. The principal part of the output of this plant is used in the manufacture of printer's ink.

The amount of natural gas required in the manufacture of carbon black can be obtained from the concluding paragraph of Dr. Jilison's book:

"The manufacture of carbon black in the Kentucky Beaver Creek field, based on the normal capacity of the plants in operation, requires approximately 1,250,000,000 cubic feet of gas per year. This amount of gas, according to the methods employed, will produce about 2,500,000 pounds of carbon black, which at 8 cents a pound would be worth $200,000. If this amount of gas were used, it would represent the same amount as would normally be sufficient to supply about 30,000 domestic natural gas consumers for an entire year in a city four times the size of Lexington, or one-fourth the size of Louisville."

$1,000 REWARD FOR YOUNG WHITE'S SLAYER

John G. White, of Magoffin county, has offered a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the identity of the murderer of his son, John G. Jr., at Ashland, who was a brother of Miss Paralee White, deputy federal court clerk at Richmond.

The White murder mystery is a week old, yet no clue has been obtained as to the identity of the slayer. John G. White, 26, oil driller, was found dead in the entrance to the Phipps and Thompson insurance office. Stretched on the floor in a pool of his own blood, he held in his right hand the gun which had sent a bullet crashing through his brain from the junction of his neck and chin to the top of his head. In his left hand he held a cigarette. White had left his home to come to Lexington where he formerly lived.

The body was identified by his mother, Mrs. John G. White, Sr., but neither she nor his father, who is president of the Boyd Oil and Gas Company, could throw any light on the mystery surrounding the death of their son. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that he came to his death at the hands of party or parties unknown.

WANTS INDEFINITE SEASON ON QUAIL

St. Paul, Minn., Mar. 6—Quail are songbirds according to the executive committee of the state humane society. Maintaining that they are also allies of farmers, resolutions adopted by the committee urge that all farmers of the states they inhabit be asked to feed and care for them. It is asserted that the work and the small amount of grain thus expended would be abundantly repaid in the destruction of insect pests and the seeds of noxious weeds.

The resolution also proposes that quail shooting be prohibited indefinitely. Without such protection the birds are in danger of extermination, says Sam F. Fullerton, executive agent of the society. The society wants quail shooting stopped for a generation at least, he adds. Altho there is now a closed season on quail in this state it will soon expire.

These Doctors Got Their "Medicine" By Wholesale

Lexington, Ky., Mar. 6—Two Somerset physicians wrote prescriptions in the Thompson Drug Store here and took the whisky back to the Pulaski capital with them in suitcases, according to affidavits submitted before Federal Judge A. M. J. Cochran in Maysville. The drug company asked that Federal Prohibition Director Sam Collins be forced to renew their permit to sell whisky for purposes other than beverage, but the request was denied. STYLE SHOW TO
FEATURE PARIS

Louisville's Style Show Association is making preparation for the most elaborate style event ever held west of New York City. Last year the "Atlantic City" show, which was staged at the big Armory, attracted people from all over Kentucky and Southern Indiana, and those exploiting the 1922 show, which will be known as "Paris on Parade," predict more than 100,000 visitors at the Armory from March 31st to April 8th, when the big event will take place. Facilities for handling the vast crowds which are expected will be greatly enlarged and improved upon. The stage this year will be in the center of the armory with runways, where fifty professional models from New York and Chicago will promenade in the fashionable apparel from Louisville's leading shops, extending from the four corners. Seats will be supplied for 6,500 people at each performance. The Parisian idea will be carried out in each of the 85 shops of the exhibitors. Each will represent a shop in Paris. Even the policemen, as well as the avenue facing each little French shop, will take on a French aspect.

Splendid Vodvil Act Tonight

Restivo, late of the famous Lasses White minstrels, which has closed a successful season, is the vodvil attraction at the opera house tonight. Restivo was the headline act at Ben Ali Theatre last week. He is heralded as the greatest accordionist in this country. His act is clean, refined, high class and pleasing. Lots of good comedy, singing, dancing and whistling, a novelty you will enjoy. The picture program will be "The Baracade." Pathe News and Charles Hutchison in "Hurricane Hutch."

Sills in Leading Role

Do you remember Milton Sills in "Behold My Wife" and in "The Faith Healer" both Paramount pictures? If so, you know what an artistic actor Mr. Sills is and how well he is able to carry even the most difficult characterizations. Clean cut and intelligent; a man of power and magnetism, he is a decidedly ideal type as an opposite to delightful Gloria Swanson the star of "The Great Moment" shown at local theatres Tuesday.

Feeding Lambs for the Eastern Market

Springfield, Ky., Mar. 6—The farmers and sheep raisers of Washington county have plans well under way whereby they hope to utilize eastern markets in disposing of their early spring lambs, according to an announcement by County Agent R. E. Heath. At the present time, two carloads are being fed for shipment to the markets before the first of April. In line with their plans to cater to the profitable eastern markets, sheep raisers in the county cooperated in a drive conducted by the College of Agriculture extension division, in having the lambs altered to meet the demands of the trade. The project is expected to be an outstanding demonstration of the possibilities for profit open to Kentucky farmers who can send desirable animals to these markets, according to Mr. Heath.

LIFE ENJOYABLE

Not content with teaching farm boys and girls of the state better methods of fattening pigs and hatching chicks, the junior agricultural club department of the College of Agriculture at Lexington has decided to further dispel the isolation of children in the rural districts of Kentucky by introducing radio work into its program of activities for the juniors. C. V. Buckler, state leader of the club work, predicts that the work will be an important factor in bringing the city closer to the youngsters and making them more contented with life on the farm. Use of the radiophone by the club members has experienced a marked increase since its inauguration in the fall of 1921, according to Mr. Buckler.

At the present time about 50 farm boys and girls, who are members of the radio club started under the plan, have instruments, Mr. Buckler said. The work has experienced an exceptionally rapid growth in Henderson and McLean counties, he said.

While the use of the radiophone by the youngsters has an entertaining feature about it in that its users can hear musical concerts in Chicago, Denver and Washington, it also has practical use which is expected to prove valuable to the future farm men and women of the state, according to Mr. Buckler. This practical use embodies the weather and market reports which the young farmers will be able to get daily from the larger cities.

Two boys who have become prominent in the use of the radiophone by junior agricultural club members are Elmer Leachman and Noble Ayr, both of McLean county. These two boys are both members of the pig club in the county and when they are not busy listening to a musical concert in Chicago or Denver, the two young swine raisers who live several miles apart, tune up and discuss the relative merits of their animals in the race for the pig club honors of the county. The work is being promoted in McLean county by County Agent Robert H. Ford.

JOHN J. GRAY

"The best investment I ever made in my life was when I bought Tanlac. I have not only recovered my health but I have also gained twenty-five pounds in weight and feel just as full of new life and energy," said John J. Gray, 1330 Hollywood street, Philadelphia, Pa., a popular salesman at George's Clothing store.

"When I began taking Tanlac I had been in failing health for some time as a result of stomach trouble and indigestion. I missed many meals rather than to suffer the discomfort I knew would follow if I ate anything at all. I suffered especially from shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart. Frequent dizzy spells and headaches added to my discomfort, and I was so nervous that I could not sleep at night."

"Since Tanlac toned up my stomach I am like a new man in every way and eat, sleep, work, feel better than in years."

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton and Son, and leading druggists.

EASTERN'S LAST GAME
TUESDAY EVE

Eastern Normal boys have the last basketball game of the season at Madison gym Tuesday night with the University of Kentucky Sophomores. Eastern will fight hard to win their last game. It will mark the close of a very successful season for the Eastern team. Under Coach Hembree the Maroon and White have developed into an aggregation which has wrought fear in the hearts of many basketball coaches. This season Eastern has defeated many of the teams that heretofore were victorious over the Normal squad. The unfortunate thing of the season was the loss of both games to Cumberland College, which gave that team the championship of the Eastern Athletic Association with Eastern as runnerup. Two defeats in a row are all Eastern has taken. This has happened twice. Eastern has nine victories to her credit and every man on the team is going to try to pull this game to Eastern's side and end the season with a victory.

Eastern's first team is in excellent condition for the starting against the Sophs. Stephenson at center, Captain Clark and Byrd at forwards and Hall and Mainous at guards are the men that Coach Hembree is to send in when the whistle blows. This will be the first time Richmond fans have seen Eastern in action since February 21, when the locals defeated Union College.

The game is sure to be a fast one from start to finish. All the basketball fans of Richmond are expected to turn out to watch Eastern's fast team fight to win their last game. Gam called at 7:30 o'clock.

Live poultry receipts have been generally lighter, and higher prices are being paid in producing to consuming centers.

Receipts of butter have been lighter, due to storms and delayed transportation, causing slightly higher prices.

EASTERN GIRLS LOSE TO TRANSYLVANIA

Eastern's girls basketball team was defeated at the Madison gym Saturday night by the Transylvania girls' team 17 to 3. Transylvania took the lead in the first few minutes of play and held it. This is the first time the local fans have had a chance to watch a central Kentucky feminine college five this season.

The Transylvania team lived up to their reputation as a very fast organization and outplayed the locals at every stage of the game. The fine spirit of the Eastern team helped them greatly, but the visitors were too strong for the locals. Eastern was forced to play a defensive game most of the time. All of the girls responded to this style of play and even the forwards distinguished themselves at it. Miss McEwan at center played best for Eastern. She played a good passing game and was responsible for fine floor work and guarding.

Eastern made only one field goal that by Miss Tuttle. It was an excellent shot from behind the free throw mark. She also did some good guarding. Captain Jacobs, of Eastern, came in for a share of the good guarding. Miss McEwan was slightly injured in the fourth quarter, but finished the game. She and Miss May, Transylvania center, were evenly matched in the tip-off.

For Transylvania Miss Arnold who won an all-state berth, played best. She led her team in scoring and played an all around good game. Miss Yelton did fine work at guard. One of the best shots ever made at the Madison gym was made by Miss Klopp in the third quarter. She received the ball near the center of the floor and shot the basket from that position without touching the rim. This was the last game for both of the teams.

The lineup:
Eastern: Owens, rf; Tuttle (2); McEwan (1) c; Jacobs rg; Whaley, lg.
Transylvania: Arnold, (7) rf; Klopp, (6) lf; May, c; King, (2) rg; Yelton, lg.
Substitutes: Shepards for May. Referee—Gentry. Timekeeper—Clark.

MADISON GIRLS LOSE TO CLARK COUNTY HI

Madison Hi ended her basketball season Saturday night when the Clark County Hi girls defeated the Madison girls in Winchester by a score of 22 to 3. This was the final game of the girls' tournament which gave the Clark county girls team the right to take part in the state tournament at Lexington next Friday and Saturday.

The Clark team proved to be too strong for the Madison outfit. Clark county played on the defense most of the first half and then changed to the offense at the beginning of the second half. This swept the local girls off their feet and from then on victory was easy. In the first half the Madison girls played their best ball. They passed well but could not make good their shots, several easy goals being missed. The Clark team guarded Madison closely throughout the first half but not so close in the second half. Only one field goal was made by Madison, that one being shot by Miss Blanton. Miss Bennett accounted for the other point by making good a free throw.

The Clark county five showed a wonderful exhibition of girls' basketball. They passed, guarded, and played as a whole a great deal like boys. The Clark girls followed up their shots while Madison made no progress at all in that line. This defeat closes a highly successful season in girls basketball at Madison. The
